Dear citizens,

As you all know from seeing the pictures on television and in the newspaper, Central America has been hit hard by a series of hurricanes. Tens of thousands of people are homeless and without basic necessities like food and clothing. I feel that we need to do something to help. So, we are asking you to donate canned goods, warm clothes, blankets, and money. Please bring all donations to the community center between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m., Saturday, September 10. Thank you for helping your fellow human beings in their time of desperate need.

Sincerely,

I heard something moving slowly along the walls. I searched for a match in the dark and tried to strike it, but it wouldn't light. This time I was certain: Something was moving in the tunnels, something alive, and it wasn't a rat. A very unpleasant smell came into my nostrils. Finally, I managed to light a match. At first I was blinded by the flame; then I saw something creeping toward me. From all the tunnels. Shapeless figures crawling like spiders. The match fell from my trembling fingers. I wanted to start running, but I couldn't. *nostril: 콧구멍

Since you can't use gestures, make faces, or present an object to readers in writing, you must rely on words to do both the telling and the showing. Show more than you tell. Use words to make the reader see. For example, don't leave the reader guessing about Laura's beautiful hair. Show how the gentle wind touches the edge of her silky, brown hair. Don't just say you felt happy. Show yourself leaping down the steps four at a time, coat unzipped, shouting in the wind, "Hurray, I did it!"

It is important to recognize your pet's particular needs and respect them. If your pet is an athletic, high-energy dog, for example, he or she is going to be much more manageable indoors if you take him or her outside to chase a ball for an hour every day. If your cat is shy and timid, he or she won't want to be dressed up and displayed in cat shows. Similarly, you cannot expect macaws to be quiet and still all the time — they are, by nature, loud and emotional creatures, and it is not their fault that your apartment doesn't absorb sound as well as a rain forest. *macaw: 마코 앵무새

30. 다음 글의 주제로 가장 적절한 것은?

Hydroelectric power is a clean and renewable power source. However, there are a few things about dams that are important to know. To build a hydroelectric dam, a large area must be flooded behind the dam. Whole communities sometimes have to be moved to another place. Entire forests can be drowned. The water released from the dam can be colder than usual and this can affect the ecosystems in the rivers downstream. It can also wash away riverbanks and destroy life on the river bottoms. The worst effect of dams has been observed on salmon that have to travel upstream to lay their eggs. If blocked by a dam, the salmon life cycle cannot be completed.

- ② dark sides of hydroelectric dams
- ③ types of hydroelectric power plants
- ④ popularity of renewable power sources
- ⑤ importance of protecting the environment

31. 다음 글의 제목으로 가장 적절한 것은?

Give children options and allow them to make their own decisions — on how much they would like to eat, whether they want to eat or not, and what they would like to have. For example, include them in the decision-making process of what you are thinking of making for dinner — "Lisa, would you like to have pasta and meatballs, or chicken and a baked potato?" When discussing how much they should eat during dinner, serve them a reasonable amount; if they claim they are still "hungry" after they are through, ask them to wait five to ten minutes, and if they continue to feel hunger, then they can have a second plate of food. These are fantastic behaviors that, when taught properly, teach brilliant self-confidence and self-control.

In most people, emotions are situational. Something in the here and now makes you mad. The emotion itself is (A) [tied / unrelated] to the situation in which it originates. As long as you remain in that emotional situation, you're likely to stay angry. If you leave the situation, the opposite is true. The emotion begins to (B) [disappear / appear] as soon as you move away from the situation. Moving away from the situation prevents it from taking hold of you. Counselors often advise clients to get some emotional distance from whatever is (C) [bothering / pleasing] them. One easy way to do that is to geographically separate yourself from the source of your anger.

What's happening when we're actually doing two things at once? It's simple. Our brain has channels, and so we're able to process different kinds of data in different parts of our brain. ____(A)____, you can talk and walk at the same time. There is no channel interference. But you're not really focused on both activities. One is happening in the foreground and the other in the background. If you were trying to explain on the cell phone how to operate a complex machine, you'd stop walking. ____(B)____, if you were crossing a rope bridge over a valley, you'd likely stop talking. Most dictionaries list names of famous people. (①) The editors must make difficult decisions about whom to include and whom to exclude. (②) Webster's New World Dictionary, for example, includes Audrey Hepburn but leaves out Spencer Tracy. (③) It lists Bing Crosby, not Bob Hope; Willie Mays, not Micky Mantle. (④) Executive editor Michael Agnes explains that names are chosen based on their frequency of use and their usefulness to the reader. (⑤) For that very reason, Elton John and Paul McCartney aren't in the dictionary, but both Marilyn Monroe and Elvis Presley, who died decades ago, are.
